Church Proposes Temporary Truce in Mexico

CLERGY SUGGESTS VOTE BY MEXICANS ON CONTROVERSY

CALLS GUARDED FOLLOWING PLOT

Details of Alleged Conspiracy Bared—Seven Women Included in List of Those Arrested.

Mexico City, August 1.—(AP)—Willfulness to enter into a truce with the Mexican government for a reasonable length of time until by means of a national plebiscite the Mexican people may express themselves concerning the religious controversy, is expressed in an exclusive statement by the Mexican Episcopate to The Associated Press.

Meanwhile, it is proposed that the religious regulations and "anti-religious persecutions" be suspended. The episcopate's statement is as follows:

Episcopate's Statement.
"On its part, the episcopate is willing to give solution to the conflict, that may save public liberties and at the same time not be unbecoming to the government. The episcopate will be willing to enter a truce for a reasonable length of time, during which the new religious regulations and all others, as well as anti-religious persecutions, may be suspended, and after this truce a definite settlement to be reached through a national plebiscite through which the people may express their real feeling.
"Some Latin-American diplomats and some high government officials have offered their good offices to mediate. The episcopate, despite its slight hopes for a successful outcome of this offer, has sincerely accepted it but without any success yet. However, we are confident, and we desire that President Obeso may not be absolutely deaf to the voice of the people.
"The present religious conflict is a needless duel, because as... as the government grants the people religious liberty and other rights to which they are entitled, according to the constitution of the country, the conflict will be settled. It is an uneven duel, because the government controls."

CLEM IS BOOSTED FOR COMMANDER BY UNION VETS

Washington, August 1.—(Special.)—Friends and admirers of Major General John L. Clem, United States army, both in Atlanta and throughout the south, will be interested in the movement in the Grand Army of the Republic to elect him as its commander-in-chief.

The annual campaign of the veteran order of the civil war will be held in Des Moines in September and then the national officers for the ensuing year will be chosen.

General Clem, who is known to history as "The Drummer Boy of Shiloh," as also of Chickamauga, entered war service at 16 years of age. Since the ending of the war between the states he has risen through all commissioned ranks to that of major general, retired, and is the only survivor of that war who holds that status on the army roster.

Since his release from active service he has been often recalled by the war department for special service, notably during the world war, and is now a member of two of the battle-field commissions.

Interested in Atlanta.
Several times in active service General Clem was stationed for years in Atlanta, living in West End, and being lively interest in social and religious affairs. He is chairman of the commission to survey and report upon the Kennesaw mountain national military park proposition and has shown deep concern to have that project carried through by the national government. He believes it would be an invaluable addition to the attractions of the Atlanta battle fields.

Residing in Washington he has been chairman of the committee on legislation for the Grand Army veterans and a powerful agent in procuring the most adequate pensions and provisions for his old comrades and dependents.

On the face of the record no man in the Grand Army has claims to the honor of chief command superior to those of General Clem and his proponents feel confident that he will be chosen at Des Moines in September.

Made in Atlanta Exhibit Opening Scheduled Today

Auditorium Is Filled to Overflowing With Whirling Wheels of Modern Industrial Exhibits.

OLD POTTER'S WHEEL PROVIDES CONTRAST

Mayor Sims Heads List of Speakers at Formal Opening Tonight—Daily Band Concerts.

Coincident with the formal opening of the mammoth "Made in Atlanta" exposition which takes place tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the municipal auditorium, will be the observance of "Merchants' week," sponsored by various industrial organizations. Thousands of retailers from every nook of the southeast are expected to visit Atlanta for the event.

Speakers at the opening exposition exercises will be Mayor Walter A. Sims, officers of the chamber of commerce, Merchants and Manufacturers' association and representatives of various civic organizations.

Concerts will be given every afternoon and evening by the Elks' Royal Purple band and exhibits will be open this week from 10 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night.

Oldest Industry.
The oldest manufacturing industry in the world and one which is carried on today with hardly a variation from the years when Babylon was young, will be exhibited in the center of the auditorium all this week, at the Atlanta Industrial exposition.

The industry is pottery; the raw material, clay dug from Fulton county earth; the machinery, the traditional potter's wheel, of which Omar Khayyam sang his deathless quatrains. The potter is H. V. Brown, whose great-grandfather whirled a potter's wheel on the identical spot where Mr. Brown and his sons bake their earthen vases and jugs today—at the junction of Pace's Ferry and Howell Mill roads.

Old as Pyramids.
The potter's wheel, described in the Bible and in literature even more ancient, pictured on the pyramids and in the sun-baked bricks of Phoenicia, is the one machine which has come down through the ages virtually unchanged. They are scattered throughout the country today, beside the motor highways and remote country lanes, wherever a deposit of good clay is to be found. The "ceramic industry," of which Georgia has talked so much in recent years, is as old as the oldest tribe of Indians who roamed the uplands.

Nothing in the big industrial exposition; the flying motors, the intricate looms, the almost-human automatic machines, is expected to be more fascinating than the wheel of the ancient Brown pottery, with its pile of moist clay taking shape in a moment under the touch of the potter's fingers. Wherever a potter's wheel is turning, always there may be seen the old as the new.

Ivy Harris Returns Home As Bud of Silver Screen

Atlanta Girl Greeted by Woman's Club Committee

Ivy Harris, beautiful Atlanta girl, who is well on the road to a brilliant career in the motion picture world, arrived in Atlanta Sunday night with a dozen other Paramount junior stars, who form the cast for "Alice in Wonderland" and who make their screen debut in "Fascinating Youth" at the Howard this week.

A committee from the Atlanta Woman's club and friends of Miss Harris formed a welcoming group at the Terminal station when the troupe arrived from Memphis, where the same presentation which is to be made in Atlanta was made last week.

The Paramount Junior stars were chosen as students in the Paramount school from over 40,000 applicants, to receive six months' training from the Famous-Players-Lasky corporation in preparation for screen careers. At the close of the school some time ago, the students were cast in the leading roles of Byron Morgan's story, "Fascinating Youth," directed by Sam Wood. They will be given stellar roles in forthcoming Paramount productions.

RULE 22, DEFINING DUTIES OF POLICE CHIEF, IS REVISED

Ambiguity of Old Rule, Which Won Chief Beavers' Case On Appeal, Is Now Removed.

VISIT TO EACH BEAT TO BE MADE WEEKLY

Buchanan Denies Intent To Induce Beavers' Retirement—Rule Requires All Chief's Time.

The police committee of city council has washed old rule No. 22 clean. No longer is it vague, indefinite, uncertain or ambiguous.

It was in this renovated condition that Chief of Police James I. Beavers found the rule Sunday morning when he returned for duty at the police station on Deatur street after an absence of something like six weeks.

The supreme court of Georgia handed down a verdict recently that restored Chief Beavers to office, holding that Rule No. 22, which the chief was charged by the committee with breaking, was too indefinite, vague and uncertain to be broken.

Denies Retirement Move.
Claude E. Buchanan, police commissioner, denied Sunday night that the amendment to rule No. 22 was intended in any way as a movement on the part of the committee to bring about retirement of Chief Beavers from active duty.

If the chief follows the amendment literally, however, he will have little time for other duties of his office, since it directs that he make a personal tour of each watch at least once a week. The new ruling follows:

"He (the chief of police) must pay visits to each watch at least once a week, said visits to cover outlying districts as well as close-in districts, that he may be able to know, of his own knowledge, that officers and men are performing their duties in a satisfactory manner. He shall make a written report to the police committee at each regular meeting showing the results of said visits, of the territory visited, and bring any suggestions he may have to make for the betterment of the department."

Would Keep Chief Busy.
Commissioner Buchanan asserted Sunday that the rule doesn't mean that the chief has to personally visit every man of the approximately 400 on the various watches. Mr. Buchanan said that this would be a physical impossibility. The reason for the amendment to old rule No. 22, he said, was simply to remove the indefiniteness.

But, if the chief should take seriously that phrase about visiting every watch each week, he'd have a schedule crammed full of action. It would be necessary for him to see, at least 60 men a day on their beats. And, inasmuch as policemen are on duty day and night, Chief Beavers would have to work day and night, too. He would have to be away from his office a great deal to keep up with his official visiting.

In event the chief does take it seriously, in addition to the lieutenants and sergeants who, under the present system, make periodic calls on the patrolmen on their beats, the chief himself will have to visit them weekly.

Text of Old Rule.
The old rule, which was passed back in the days when Atlanta had only one chief of police, no captains or lieutenants, read something like this: "He (the chief of police) will be held responsible for the good order of the city and the general conduct of the officers and men of the police force. He will as often as possible pay a frequent visit at unusual hours to various portions of the city, that he may be able to know, of his own knowledge, that the officers and men are performing their duties."

According to the order posted at police station, the amendment was made at last Wednesday's meeting of the police committee, but was not published until Saturday.

Retired Chief Jeff served almost two years under old rule No. 22. Various other chiefs have done the same. But, to Chief Beavers comes the distinction of having a brand new rule No. 22, as he starts his resumed service.

M'PHERSON CASE HAS "BLOWN UP," KEYES ANNOUNCES

District Attorney States Carmel Evidence Is Too Vague for Successful Prosecution.

TRIAL WOULD COST COUNTY GREAT SUM

Keyes Says He Doubts If Case Will Ever Be Heard of Again After He Confers With Jury.

Los Angeles, August 1.—(AP)—District Attorney Aimee Semple McPherson tonight that he considered the Aimee Semple McPherson case "blown up," as far as further investigation by his office was concerned. He stated he believed the evidence Detective Captain Herman Cline, and Deputy District Attorney Joe Ryan brought to Los Angeles from Carmel was "too vague to successfully prosecute any one on a perjury charge."

The district attorney made his statement after confirming a report that he had ordered a process server to his office to discontinue serving subpoenas on witnesses at Carmel-by-the-Sea. The statement was made to newspapermen who had been searching for him since he hurriedly left his office yesterday.

Keyes declared he would go before the grand jury Tuesday morning and explain the situation to the members, after which he would withdraw from the case. He said that after he presented his facts to the grand jury he was doubtful if the McPherson case would be heard of any more.

An allegorical reference to her experience with kidnappers was drawn today by Aimee Semple McPherson in a Sabbath sermon at Angelus temple. Taking as her text, "Holiness unto the Lord," the evangelist told of a dream in which she saw her pure white dress spattered with mud which in time turned to garlands of pearls and jewels. When she concluded her dramatic talk before a crowd of 6,000 persons a storm of applause swept the congregation.

Amplifiers were used to carry the sermon to an overflow audience in an adjoining building and on the street.

'SARI' SEAT SALE BREAKING RECORD
Famous Gypsy Opera, Famous a Few Years Ago, Given Lavish Production Here.

"Sari," the seventh production of the Municipal Opera association, which opens its week's run tonight, promises to break the records for attendance judging from the advance sale of seats. It was one of the big successes of a few seasons ago, running more than two years in the principal theaters, and the management promises to make the Atlanta production even more elaborate than the original.

Louise Hunter, prima donna of the company, returns to the cast after a week's rest to play the title role, that of a gypsy girl, the daughter of the famous violin virtuoso. In addition to the several songs assigned her as "Sari," she will interpolate in the second act the famous grand opera aria, "The Polonaise" from "Mignon," a number which will serve to display the unusual flexibility and range of her voice.

Lou Powers, too, has an unusually good comedy part, that of Cadeaux, the mysterious and eccentric "bad boy." All the principals are cast for important roles. Louis Templeman will be Pali Race, the aged violinist; Arthur Buckley will play the jangling c-m, and Francis J. Tyler will be the King of Masalia. William McLeod will have his best role of the season as Count Gaston, the sweetest heart of "Sari," and Anne Yago and Mary Patterson will be seen in excellent parts.

The usual popular-priced matinee will be given Wednesday, with the regular matinee on Saturday and performances every night.

France Planning To Hasten Action On Debt To U. S.

Opposition Causes Premier To Recede From Previous Stand On Settlement of Obligations.

POINCARÉ PROGRAM CALLED FOR DELAY

Pressure of Financiers, However, Resulted in Decision To Have Exchange of Views.

Paris, August 1.—(AP)—The debt settlements between France and the United States and between France and Great Britain now appear likely to come up for ratification by the French parliament during the present month before the summer recess. Ever-growing opposition of financiers, as reflected by the press, to shelving the Washington and London funding agreements until October, apparently has caused Premier Poincaré to recede from his determined and oft-announced position of "no immediate ratification."

A communique issued by the semi-official Havas agency tonight, evidently inspired by the government, is authority for this statement. The communique reads, in part: "Information published in an evening paper attributing to the premier the intention to adjourn to a very distant date examination of the American and British agreements concerning French debts is groundless."

Debt Settlements.
On the contrary, M. Poincaré intends, as soon as the financial projects now before parliament are definitely voted, to have an exchange of views concerning the interrelated debts with the finance and foreign affairs committees of the chamber and senate, which already had been asked officially by the preceding governments to study the report on the Berenger-Mellon and Caillaux-Churchill agreements."

His financial bill safely through the chamber and assured of an overwhelming majority in the senate, Premier Poincaré spent part of last night and the entire morning preparing the financial and technical advisers, a ne- bill creating an autonomous sinking fund to care for the floating debt, and a national tobacco company.

Tax on Foreigners.
This bill will be submitted for approval of the council of ministers tomorrow morning.

The inclusion of a tax on foreigners in Premier Poincaré's bill, voted by the chambers yesterday, caused a certain amount of surprise. Identical cards and remembrances of such cards every two years now will cost foreigners 375 francs, instead of the present 68. Students and journalists will pay 40 francs, while foreign volunteers who served in the French army during the war are exempt from any fee whatever. Passage of this clause was made contingent on abandonment of a bill drawn up by Deputy Falcoz, requiring every foreigner to pay a fee upon entering the country.

FURTHER SHOWERS, LOW TEMPERATURES PROBABLE MONDAY
Thunderstorms with only slight change in temperature are predicted for Atlanta today by weather bureau officials. Sunday's lowest temperature was 66 and highest 82.

Rains have been general in the southeast the last several days, the section being the center of a low-pressure area.

Friend Tells Donaldson Life Story From Boyhood

"MOST USEFUL MAN IN ATLANTA," SAID ZERBST

Ray White, former editorial writer on The Constitution, and now publisher of the Middle Georgian, published at Jeffersonville, Ga., probably knew Bert Donaldson as well as any man in Atlanta. Mr. White was a frequent visitor at Mr. Donaldson's home and, out of the long talks they had together, Mr. White has written the following recollections and life story of the man who was brutally murdered on Thursday last in a room at the Georgian Terrace hotel.

BY RAY E. WHITE.
Jeffersonville, Ga., July 31.—(Special.)—From about his ninth year until he was past 40, Bert Donaldson lived the life of an outlaw, either as a prison inmate or a fugitive from justice.

His criminal career began in a midwestern reformatory for boys. As a homeless, half-starved little street waif, he had been incarcerated for a minor infraction of the law. In the institution he was beaten and he escaped. Before his recapture he had multiplied his crimes in the forms of larceny upon which the law was forced to depend for sustenance. Thenceforth he was a habitual criminal.

Instinctively and by nature he persistently had rebelled against abuse and from the beginning of his career of crime as a mere lad down to the day when Zerbst became warden of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, cold-hearted reformatory officials, jailers and wardens in a score of penal institutions in various parts of the country subjected him to punishment in an effort to break his indomitable spirit. But they never did it. Police history records that not once did he ever cave under or squeal on a pal.

His spirit never was broken and it was the same spirit that lived in and actuated his heart after his regeneration 12 years ago and up to the time of his assassination. This latter period it was directed toward noble instead of criminal ends. Once, in Ohio accused of a murder of which he was guilty only by a technicality of state law, he was convicted on circuit.

WIFE OF WILSON HELD AS WITNESS IN COLUMBUS, GA.

On Instructions of Atlanta Detective, Columbus Police Arrest Wife of Alleged Check Slayer.

FURTHER ARRESTS EXPECTED HOURLY

Hughes Brothers Still Held Incommunicado. Clerk Identifies One as Death-Room Occupant.

One of the Hughes brothers, held in Fulton tower as suspects in the murder of Bert Donaldson, was identified Sunday night as "W. B. Sands," the man who held the death room in which Solicitor General John A. Boykin's special investigator was murdered Thursday night in the Georgian Terrace hotel. Identification was made by Robert F. Eastlander, clerk at the hotel, who assigned "Sands" to the death room and who testified that he had seen him about the hotel several days prior to the slaying.

H. L. and C. K. Hughes, brothers, 29 and 22 years old, respectively, were arrested Saturday night by George Pounds, special investigator for Solicitor Boykin, and lodged in the tower.

Woman Held as Witness.

The wife of Jack Wilson, Chicago gunman who is wanted here on a murder charge in connection with the murder of W. H. Cheek, Peachtree road grocer, was arrested in Columbus, Ga., Sunday night as a material witness in the Donaldson slaying. She will be brought to Atlanta today by officers sent to Columbus by Solicitor Boykin. According to Columbus dispatches, she was taken into custody in a hotel there, where she was living under the name of Mrs. H. D. Lamongee.

Another development of Sunday night was an order issued at police station for the arrest of five men who are believed to be in Atlanta and to know something of the slaying of Bert Donaldson. The names of those wanted were not divulged, pending their arrest, but all are men known to the police for past operations in Atlanta. None of the five had been arrested at a late hour Sunday night.

Woman's Connection Unknown.

What connection as a witness Jack Wilson's wife has in the murder, attaches of Solicitor Boykin's office refused to divulge, but it is known that prior to his death Bert Donaldson was hot on the trail of the elusive gunman and had information which would probably have led to his early arrest. Donaldson had just returned from Canada and Chicago a few days before the slaying, where he went in search of Wilson. While there he gathered important evidence. It is also believed by investigators that Donaldson was lured to the hotel room, where he met his death, by a

Senatorial Candidates
Will Be Named This Week
In Four State Primaries

Wet Issue Is Seen As Chief Question in Both Parties in Missouri.
Curtis Expected To Win.

Washington, August 1.—Senatorial candidates are to be named in four state primaries this week. Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma will hold their primaries Tuesday and Kentucky's will be on Saturday. Prohibition is an issue in Missouri. Contests are perfunctory in Kansas and Kentucky. Prohibition is the chief issue in both parties in the Missouri primaries. On the republican side, Senator Williams has tried to hold a middle course while opposed on one side by an Anti-Saloon league dry, David M. Proctor, of Kansas City, and Blodgett Priest, St. Louis wet. Williams has tried to subordinate prohibition as an issue but when pressed by the other two candidates, he declared it is a moral question and indicated he originally opposed federal prohibition.

Hawes Is Wet.
On the democratic side, Harry B. Hawes is running as a wet against H. Meredith. For a time they threatened to divide the dry vote but finally Meredith decided to run for the short term only while Cockrell is running for the full six-year term, enabling the dries to consolidate to beat Hawes who is running for both the regular six-year term beginning in March, 1927, and the short term vacancy caused by the death of Senator Spencer, whose seat Williams is now holding by appointment. Hawes appears to be the favorite on the democratic side and Williams on the republican side.

In Oklahoma Senator Harrell is conceded renomination by the republicans. The Klan is prominent in the democratic fight in which Representative Elmer Thomas is candidate for the senatorial nomination, is charged with being a member, W. A. Ledbetter and J. C. Walton, who was ousted by the Klan when he was governor in 1923 and defeated when he ran for the senate in 1924, are anti-Klan candidates.

Negro Opposes Curtis.
In Kansas Senator Curtis, majority leader in the senate, has only nominal opposition in Nick Childs, negro politician of Topeka. Curtis is expected to be nominated by a large majority. Democrats are having a warm fight with George McGill and Charles Stephens at the leading contestants.

The Kentucky primaries, so far as senatorial candidates are concerned, already is settled. Senator Ernst has already been chosen by the state republican convention as the party's candidate and Representative Albert W. Barkley has no opposition for the democratic nomination. The primary fight revolves entirely around congressional and local nominations.

NO CLUE FOUND TO KIDNAPERS
OF MAN IN TEXAS

Fort Worth, Texas, August 1.—(AP) No clue to the identity of a man who was forcibly seized on one of the principal downtown corners here last night and rushed away in a touring car by six robed men had been unearthed by police here today. The identity of the abductees had not been learned. Eye-witnesses of the abduction say that the man was seized by a robed figure of gigantic proportions and crammed into a car at the curb while he was shouting for help and struggling to escape.

AS SCREEN BUD

Lanta girl since entering upon her screen career.
"It is indeed a pleasure," Mrs. Otley said to the clubwomen of Georgia to do honor to the young people of the state, who have the perseverance it requires to prepare themselves for their chosen lines of endeavor, and it comes to me that Miss Harris has been a student for years of the various lines of the art that it requires to give her a place among the best in her profession.
"Education is absolutely necessary to qualify a person for the maximum of success in any profession. Without such a foundation it is extremely difficult to reach the zenith. I understand that Miss Harris received her grammar school education at college courses under dramatic and music instructors. Then, following upon this foundation of education, she entered the Paramount school in New York, which amply fitted her to take her place among the dramatic artists of the motion picture world. It is a pleasure to the Atlanta Woman's Club to sponsor one who is imbued with ambition and who is willing to labor and sacrifice in order to attain efficiency."

In Dancing School Here.
Miss Harris made her debut in a recital of the Potter-Spiker School of Dancing in a recital entitled "Laces and Graces," after which she attracted prominence as a young dramatic and dancing artist.
Mrs. Price-Smith announced Sunday that final plans for the ball Tuesday night had been completed and that tickets could be secured at the club or the Cable Piano company.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Wilmington, Del., August 1.—(AP) Four persons were killed today when a southbound train on the Pennsylvania railroad struck their automobile at a grade crossing a mile south of Blackbird station near here.

The dead are: Guernsey Smith, 25; Marjorie Smith, 19, his sister; J. R. Hill, 23, and Anna Morris, 19, all of Centerville, Del.
Police said the car, driven by Guernsey Smith, drove directly in front of the passenger train after waiting the crossing of a freight. The machine was hurled high in the air and the four occupants almost instantly killed. They were on their way to visit a grandmother of Miss Smith at Blackbird.

CONTROVERSY ASKED

the press, can make use of violence through hunger, and of public force, while the people on their part are defenseless.

"Duel Is Rulerous."
"It is a ruinous duel from an economic point of view, as the blockade gives promise of being effective. Finally, a glorious duel, because the people will recover their liberties through self-denial."

The situation is serious. Religious services have been suspended throughout the country, and the people who are profoundly Catholic are deeply grieved at being deprived of them. The days preceding the suspension of religious services were of unusual religious activity; the zeal of the worshippers was even greater than that shown at the eucharistic congress at Chicago. The churches remain open, the people visiting them in large numbers.

Another evidence of the strength of Catholicism in Mexico is the enthusiasm awakened by the National League for the Defense of Religious Liberty. Within only a few weeks the adherents of the entire country has been secured by an economic blockade, which officially became effective Saturday, but which, in effect, has been going on for days.

"The government has increased its rigor. Many have been arrested for distributing leaflets which are not seditions. On the other hand, all sorts of anti-Catholic propaganda is being circulated."

Seeking to Deceive.
"A national league for the defense of liberty of conscience has been organized and is craftily attacking the movement of the league for religious liberty, seeking to deceive Catholics by the similarity of its name and the name of the other league."

The regional confederation of labor's demonstration today was absolutely unpopular. All the members of that organization, a good many of them Catholics, were forced to participate under threat of dismissal, with the loss of their salaries. The difficulty of getting work in the future.

"Similar pressure was exerted upon government employees.
"Notwithstanding many individuals, even entire unions, refused to attend, and a large group of confederation members signed a manifesto openly opposing the anti-religious work of their leaders. The confederation says 50,000 attended, but scarcely 10,000 or 15,000 participated."

"An evidence of the unpopularity of the demonstration was the lack of spectators and the little echo awakened among them by the expressions of some of the paraders. It is lamentable that some of the banners insulted the pope, the church, clergy and religious societies, such as the Knights of Columbus."

NINE HELD IN PLOT.
CALLES IS GUARDED

Mexico City, August 1.—A guard instructed to "act first and talk later" surrounds President Calles following discovery of a plot against his life. Nine persons are in jail in connection with the plot. All who approach President Calles are watched closely and orders given the presidential guards that no chances be taken on an attempt against the chief executive, according to the newspaper Excelsior.

Seven women and two men were involved in the plans to kill the man around whom the storm of religious controversy is raging.
The plotters met to discuss the death of Calles in the house of Senora Clemencia Baquendo, who was one of the first to be arrested under orders from the Mexican general state. Others arrested include Clementina Baquendo, 16-year-old daughter of Senora Baquendo; four servants; Dolores Lemus, a young woman employed by the municipal government; Andres Araujo, son of a senator, and a Spaniard who reported the plot to the authorities.

An Indian detective from Oaxaca, who gained the confidence of Senora Lemus by saying he was an ardent Catholic, is responsible for discovery of the death plot.
Senora Lemus is a member of the League for Defense of Religious Liberty.

SPECIAL PRAYERS OFFERED
BY POPE FOR MEXICO.

Rome, August 1.—(AP) By the express desire of Pope Pius, the entire day of the Vatican was devoted to meditation and prayer in behalf of Mexico. Thus, there were no ceremonies, all audiences and receptions were countermanded, and the pontiff celebrated mass earlier than usual in his private chapel. He admitted no one, dedicating the service to Mexico.

After the mass he knelt longer than is customary, absorbed in fervent prayer for the relief of the people of that country.

In the afternoon, Pope Pius, accompanied by Monsignor Migone, private chamberlain, entered the Pauline chapel where he remained for fifteen minutes, and the pontiff celebrated mass, again praying for Mexico. Afterwards he drove through the Vatican grounds, and on his way back, he stopped once more at the Pauline chapel and knelt before the sacrament, invoking the protection of the Almighty in behalf of the Mexican faithful.

Prayers for Mexico also were recited in all the churches of Rome and Italy, attended by large crowds, especially at St. Peter's. St. John Lateran and St. Maria Maggiore. The ceremonies acquired special importance at San Pietro-in-Vincoli (St. Peter-in-chains), today being the festival of that church.

CATHOLICS DENOUNCED
BY PRESIDENT CALLES

New York, August 1.—(AP) President Calles, of Mexico, in a copyrighted statement published today in the New York Times, denounced "the rebellious attitude" of the heads of the Roman Catholic church in Mexico and affirmed that his government was determined to uphold its civil rights.
Replying to the pastoral letter issued by the Mexican episcopacy July 25, in which the government was charged with being "impossible for the church to continue many of its religious functions, President Calles denied any intent at suppression except the holding of its civil rights."

The clergy, he charged, "try to invade and do invade the spheres of politics, and government, and provoke movement of disorder and incite so cruelly or openly to rebellion."
The opposition of the Mexican episcopacy to the laws forbidding priests to criticize the government, the president declared, "indicates that they are taking advantage or wish to incite the ignoring of the laws or spread propaganda against the government or, in general, for purposes that are not of a religious but of a political nature."

HUNDREDS OF NUNS
FLOCK OVER BORDER.

San Antonio, Texas, August 1.—Hundreds of nuns, driven out of Mexico by that country's new religious regulations, are flocking across the international border south of here.

Laredo, Brownsville and El Paso report many of the nuns are arriving in disguise to prevent their being stopped before crossing the Rio Grande river. All of them carry boxes containing their personal belongings. The nuns are fleeing for the religious refugees are being provided here, where most of them probably will end their journeys. Catholic officials have ordered all public schools prepare to receive them.

A check-up Sunday night showed that 500 nuns were already here from Mexico and that several hundred more were on route from villages along the border. All of them are believed to have crossed the boundary before the "new" laws in the Mexican regulations became effective.

CATHOLICS WORSHIP
AS LABOR PARADES.

Mexico City, August 1.—As Mexican Catholics worshipped without their priests on the first Sunday of enforcement of the national religious laws, 50,000 members of the Mexican Federation of Labor paraded the streets carrying banners which asked: "Are we Mexicans, or the subjects of Rome?"

This was labor's first great demonstration of loyalty to the Calles government in its bitter clash with the Catholic church. The city was calm as the members of the "crom" and government employees marched under the escort of police carrying drawn sabers.

Ask To Be Excused.
Newspapermen and members of the street railwaymen's union were not permitted to participate. Since 1910 they had refrained from entering political demonstrations, they stated, because in 1914 Victoriano Huerta had ordered them to parade against the Carranza forces and 345 members of the union had been killed by Yaqui troops.

CASUALTY LIST MOUNTS IN MEXICAN TROUBLE

Mexico City, August 1.—The casualty list arising from Mexican religious troubles in Mexico City proper to date is three dead and 33 wounded.

A total of 16 babies died as the result of the crash at the Cathedral during the final week of regular religious ceremonies.

Six persons are reported dead at Pachuca, but otherwise no deaths due to the conflict of church and state are reported outside the capital.

Archbishop Mora, who remains here with other leaders of the church, is slightly ill from biliousness and exhaustion, and remains at his home.

When the Carranza forces took the city a year later.

During the parade many churches were filled with praying men and women. In the line of march a few women flayed and were given first aid by Red Cross workers. Three thousand troops and mounted police were scattered throughout a wide area to insure order.

President Calles, Attorney General Ortega and other members of the cabinet reviewed the demonstration, while the forces of the church were notably absent.

Before and after the parade, labor orators made speeches. As the paraders passed the balcony of the city hall, where President Calles and his ministers stood, the government officials waved their handkerchiefs at those demonstrating loyalty to the Calles regime.

be found a group of onlookers, watching the deft fingers of the potter, even as on Postoffice or Broadway a throng will pause to watch a show-window demonstrator play with a fountain pen of new design.

Modern Contrast.
In sharp contrast to the pottery display, and a few feet distant, will be found the most modern of automatic machinery designed to save labor and speed production, thus making the product lower in cost. Installed in the auditorium are machines for making envelopes faster than the eye can see the process; looms for weaving rugs; machinery for making garments of every kind. A visit to the Industrial exposition will be like a tour of the Atlanta manufacturing district, which would require weeks.

To help defray expenses of the exposition an admission fee of ten cents has been fixed, with tickets on sale at the doors. These admit the visitors to everything, including the continuous motion pictures of Atlanta industrial plants shown every night.

GRAFT REPORTS
CAUSE OF PROBE

Manville, N. J.
Mrs. Harding, according to residents of Manville, always drove an old-fashioned roadster that was the mystery car that has baffled authorities during the four long years since the disappearance of her husband, who was murdered under the crab-apple tree.

Alexander Simpson, tentatively named as a special prosecutor to sift the new mystery, planned to examine Mrs. Mahoney-Harding at great length.

When she arrives in Somerville she will be confronted with Mills in a line-up and asked to pick out the man she saw at the scene. She will also be a witness before the grand jury that will begin a second investigation shortly.

Led Colorful Career.
Investigation here discloses that Mrs. Harding enjoyed a colorful career during her residence in Manville, N. J., where she was in the employ of the Johns-Manville factory. She was a waitress and later assistant housekeeper of the Asbestos hotel in Manville—not a social worker, as she told inquirers in Milwaukee last night.

In her home early today Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall knelt to receive Holy communion administered by the Rev. Dr. Pettit. He is rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist and successor to the Rev. Edward W. Hall.

Mr. Hall preferred to receive his spiritual consolation in private, because scores of newspapermen had flocked to her late husband's church to observe her.

Toward the close of the service, Mrs. Hall and Dr. Pettit knelt in prayer. When Dr. Pettit left the house he said the private service was for Mrs. Hall alone, not for the entire household.

It was the first time the rich widow had missed a morning service since she resumed her religious work after the murder investigation four years ago.

MRS. HARDING TO TELL HER STORY TO SHERIFF.
Milwaukee, Wis., August 1.—(AP) Mrs. Virginia Dorothy Harding, of Sherwood, a suburb, left here early today for Somerset, N. J., where she intends seeing Sheriff Joseph Hanlon, and placing before him information which she says she is confident will clear up the Hall-Mills slaying mystery.

Yesterday Mrs. Harding said she sent a message to Sheriff Hanlon, telling him her story, which in brief is that she was driving near the place where the bodies of Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were found on the night the pair were slain.

As she approached the spot, she was confronted by a man who demanded, "What have you seen?" She replied that she had seen nothing, and was told to go her way, but never tell what she had observed.

For several years, before coming to Milwaukee she said, she was made to feel that she was in constant danger of her life, and did not decide to tell what she knew about the affair until Mrs. Hall was arrested, recently. She said she could identify the man who stopped her.

New York, August 1.—(AP)—The steamship Carmania lost a race with the stork during the voyage from Southampton, England, that ended today.

Three days out from Southampton, during extremely rough weather, a son was born to the Princess Guido Figlioli de Monte-Carlo, who is en route to this country with her husband in the hope that her child would be born in its mother's homeland.

Many Unsung Heroes Named
HERE IS LIST OF U. S. EDUCATION BUREAU
In Unconventional Choice

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.
Washington, Aug. 1.—Even if you are well-read you probably can't identify every name of the United States bureau of education's list of thirty American heroes.

This list is unconventional because it passes over many who have popularly been regarded as heroes and attempts to name those who have made great contributions to human progress.

List of Heroes.
Here is the bureau's list:
Statesmen—1, Washington; 2, Franklin; 3, Hamilton; 4, Jefferson; 5, Lincoln.

Writers—6, Hawthorne, novelist; 7, Mark Twain, humorist; 8, Francis Parkman, historian; 9, Sidney Lanier, poet.

Inventors—10, S. F. B. Morse, telegraph; 11, Robert Fulton, steamboat; 12, Thomas Edison, phonograph and electrical devices; 13, Cyrus H. McCormick, reaper.

Educators—14, Horace Mann, model Mormon school system; 15, Mary Lyon, founder of Mt. Holyoke College for girls; 16, Alice Freeman Palmer, early president of Wellesley Girls' college; 17, Booker T. Washington, negro educator.

Humanitarian Workers—18, Jacob Riis, leader of crusade to clean up New York bowery; 19, Frances Willard, temperance pioneer; 20, Clara Barton, founder of Red Cross and modern war nursing system; 21, Anna Howard Shaw, pioneer suffragist.

Naturalists and Explorers—22, Columbus; 23, Daniel Boone; 24, George Rogers Clarke, explorer of northwest territory; 25, John Muir, glaciers and Alaska; 26, John Burroughs, native and animal life; 27, Marquette, Mississippi river valley.

Miscellaneous—28, William Penn; 29, Edward L. Trudeau, early authority on tuberculosis and founder of Saranac (N. Y.) laboratory; 30, Robert E. Lee.

Lee Honored as Educator.
Apparently General Lee was included because of his work as head of Washington and Lee university, as Miss Ellen Lombard, who arranged the list, explained that military heroes were not included as such.

"In the selection made for this course of thirty names from the list of American leaders the aim has been to present those who have added in some definite way to human progress or to the sum of human happiness," it is explained.

THREATS OF FIRE CAUSE CLOSING OF GLACIER PARK

Kaliapali, Mont., August 1.—(AP)—Threats of forest fires caused the entrance to Glacier park to be closed and tourists to pour out of the national playground during the night. Two summer homes on the west shore of Lake McDonald were burned and high winds during the morning carried the timber flames to within a half mile or more of the foot of the lake.

COUPLE MARRIED AT RESCUE HOME

Melvin McCarty, of Ohio, and Miss Lottie Whorley, of Baltimore, Md., were married Sunday afternoon at the American Rescue Workers' home, on Piedmont avenue, by Dr. William Thomas Ryan, staff captain at the institution.

The wedding was public and about 50 persons were present. The couple will leave Atlanta Monday for Texas, where they will make their home. The bride is daughter of Lieutenant J. A. Whorley, aide at the home.

"The Store all Women Know"

You've a Right to Know About the Furs You Buy

Sometimes the question arises, "What will you allow me on my old fur?" The answer is invariably the same, "We can allow you nothing. It is worth nothing to us. Only new and perfect pelts are used in the furs we sell. If we bought old furs, we'd have to sell them."

That is our stand. We could not afford to make allowances for old furs. For we guarantee the furs we sell. In order to do this, we have to KNOW the kind of furs we are selling. We have to KNOW that they're perfect. Two experts are employed in New York who go over every piece of fur, inch by inch, before it ever enters our stocks. Unworthy furs are rejected and returned. Perfect furs, and ONLY perfect furs, can be bought at Allen's... we guarantee them!

If you can sell an old fur to a furrier, how can you be sure that the new garment you're buying is composed of entirely new skins? Old furs bought in this way must go somewhere, and the most likely place for them to go is into garments to be resold.

No, you can't sell or trade in old furs at Allen's, and you may be thankful, for you can't buy them, either!

Suburban Store Looted of $206 By Negro Thief To Hear Sermon

Using a ladder to gain access into a rear window of an A. & P. store at 1058 Highland avenue, an unidentified negro Sunday morning stole $206.89 cash and escaped after he was seen leaving the place by Ashton Garner, newspaper delivery boy, according to police reports.

Garner reported the incident to a city fireman who notified Policemen F. S. Tippen and R. R. Davis. The officers stated, after an investigation, that the negro found the money hidden in various parts of the store. The theft occurred shortly after daybreak.

Three homes in scattered sections were reported entered by thieves Saturday night, the robbers stealing a quantity of clothing and small household articles. Burglars entered the homes of H. Stone, 623 Washington street; C. E. Parker, 80 Wyman street, and William Nelson, 78 Boulevard terrace.

Juvenile Quartet Caught.

Chicago, August 1.—(AP)—A quartet of worldly juveniles, five, six, seven and eight years old, were captured early today while engaged in their twenty-fifth burglary of the past two months, to satisfy their desire for candy and shoes. Two detectives hearing a crash of glass, found them looting a radio store. They were caught before a tool from a toy whistle used by the "lookout" could warn his companions. One of the boys carried a toy cap pistol.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., August 1.—(AP) A sermon for those who at this season seek strength for the tasks of another year was heard by President Coolidge today in attending services at the First Presbyterian church of Saranac Lake.

The sermon, preached by the Rev. Dr. Charles R. Erdman, of Princeton Theological seminary and former moderator of the Presbyterian church, was from the text in Isaiah 40:31: "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." It emphasized the value of the spiritual forces in man.

Welcome Given President.

Mr. Coolidge was accompanied to church by Mrs. Coolidge and by Frank W. Stearns, of Boston, and Senator Cameron, republican, Arizona, house guests at White Pine camp. Crowds gave the president an enthusiastic welcome, both as he entered and as he left the church.

After a visit with the president of two days, Senator Cameron left tonight for New York and Washington, and late this week will go to Arizona to enter the campaign for reelection to the senate.

Everett Sanders, secretary to the president, also left tonight for Boston to enter a hospital for a thorough examination by specialists, a course deemed advisable because of an illness that has kept him confined to his room for over a week. His condition is described as not serious.

Plans for President Coolidge this week are indefinite, because of the possibility that he may be able to go to Plymouth, N. Y., by Wednesday or Thursday for a visit of several days at his boyhood home. No definite date for making the trip, however, has been announced.

He will receive Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., son of the Akron, Ohio, rubber manufacturer, Tuesday for a report on rubber production possibilities in the Philippines.

Late that afternoon he will deliver an address by radio for exercises at the Denver celebration of the semi-centennial of the admission of Colorado to statehood.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR W. L. CLARK, YOUNG ATLANTAN

William Lake Clark, young Atlantan, who died Wednesday from injuries sustained several days ago in a polo game, was buried with full military honors by the Governor's Horse guard Sunday afternoon, services being held from St. Mark's Methodist church. Interment was in West View cemetery.

Mr. Clark was 20 years old and lived at 844 Piedmont avenue. He was the son of F. E. Clark, Sr., and resided in Atlanta practically all his life. He was corporal of the 108th cavalry, Governor's Horse guard.

After impressive services at the church, 32 mounted guards headed the procession to the cemetery. They were followed by the casket, and in the rear a guardsman led the horse of the young man, whose boots were reversed in the stirrups.

Services were read at the grave and "taps" concluded the ceremony. Arrangements were in charge of J. Austin Dillon.

THE HAPPY HOUSEWIFE

Four walls can make a house, but it takes a woman to make a home. The woman who prepares nourishing and attractive meals, does her housework without grumbling, raises a family of healthy boys and girls and still finds time to be a pal to her husband and a friend to her neighbors, is accomplishing the biggest job in the world. Homes like hers—little havens of peace and love—are the bulwark of the nation.

To be a successful homemaker a woman must guard her health. When mother is not well, the home is upset. Women everywhere are learning through their own personal experience, the merit of Lydia's Pinkettes for keeping the system clean and healthy.

IOWA PAYS TRIBUTE TO SENATOR CUMMINS

Des Moines, Iowa, August 1.—(AP)—Beneath the golden dome of the state house, where for many years he directed the destinies of the state he loved, Senator Cummins today lay in the solemn dignity of his final rest as the people of Iowa, whom he served for nearly 40 years, gathered to pay tribute.

From far corners of the state, thousands entered the marble corridors of the capitol to pause a moment before the hier of the veteran statesman, whose unexpected death Friday brought to a close a distinguished career as governor and senator.

Tomorrow at 4 o'clock Senator Cummins' close friends and associates, including a committee of 21 United States senators and the entire Iowa congressional delegation, will gather at the old Cummins home in West Des Moines. Boyhood friends will act as pallbearers.

Political conferences are expected to begin tomorrow, following funeral services for Senator Cummins, looking to an agreement among republican party leaders upon a candidate for the rest of the term of Senator Cummins, which expires next March.

A group of prominent republicans here feel that evidence of party unity might be emphasized by the nomination of Colonel Smith W. Brookhart for the unexpired term. He is the party nominee for the full term, to be filled in November, 1937.

The democratic party leaders had not decided tonight upon their procedure in selecting a short-term candidate.

HORSE 'SANITARIUM' STARTED BY GERMANS

Berlin, August 1.—(AP)—Truck and delivery horses owned by the city are having a three-week vacation this summer on a 300-acre municipal horse "sanitarium" in charge of a corps of veterinarians.

Officials in charge of the place, formerly a nobleman's estate, say it pays the city to give horses a rest by the same token that it pays to give human beings a vacation. The animals get all the oats and hay they can eat and peace around the meadows or in the shade under the trees.

Many private business concerns are adopting the idea, sending their horses to the same farm while drivers are on vacation.

WIDE PROSPERITY MARKS SUMMER

New York, August 1.—(AP)—Unprecedented summer prosperity is reported here for the country's principal industries and operations of many large companies. This evidence of business expansion influences buoyancy for this time of year.

Extraordinary half-year earnings by two of the premier industrial companies—United States Steel and General Motors—were indicative of conditions which prevailed in the winter and spring months. Widely heralded predictions of a slump in activity during the summer have failed to materialize, with all signs now pointing to another heavy volume of business in the fall.

In the six months ended July 1, the General Motors corporation for the first time outdistanced the United States Steel corporation in rising profits. The earnings of both companies were so far in excess of last year's that they have exceeded requirements that prospects for substantial distribution to stockholders were considerably brightened. Recent reductions in taxation, releasing funds for productive purposes, were credited by the administration as important factors in the current business prosperity. Surveys by the government agencies at the same time indicated that further improvement in trade was in sight.

MACON COUNTY GROWS CROP OF TOBACCO

Montezuma, Ga., Aug. 1.—(Special.)—The harvesting of Macon county's first tobacco crop is now under way and there is every indication of a most successful crop. The culture of tobacco was undertaken here this year as an experiment, 125 acres having been planted by farmers in the ideal district, and an experienced tobacco man was engaged to supervise its cultivation.

Mr. Collier, industrial agent of the A. B. & A. railroad, considers the soil in the ideal district peculiarly adapted to tobacco growing. Specimens from the curing barns are of very fine quality and the growers are enthusiastic over the prospect. As yet there is no market in this county for it and this season's crop will be carried to Douglas or Fitzgerald or some other neighboring town, but J. W. Nelson, mayor of Ideal and one of the largest planters of tobacco there, states that plans are already under way for the erection of warehouses before another season and that it is the purpose of the ideal community to make that point the tobacco center of this section.

11,000 MEETINGS ARE CALLED TO STIR SUFFRAGE INTEREST

Indianapolis, Ind., August 1.—(AP)—Hoping to a recent warning by John Hays Hammond, of the National Civic Federation that the vote of the private citizen alone can save the United States from becoming a corrupt democracy, 11,000 non-partisan meetings in as many towns and cities of the nation have been called for September 21 by the American Legion post commanders in an effort to increase interest in exercise of the right of suffrage.

400 ARE MISSING AFTER HURRICANE

Nassau, N. P., Bahamas, August 1.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press.)—An incomplete check of damage caused by the tropical hurricane here last Monday indicates that at least 120 persons were killed, and more than 400 are missing, property loss of $5,000,000 stands as first estimates. The remaining boats were sunk, demolished and unaccounted for.

NO BUMPER FOOD AND FEED CROPS SEEN THIS YEAR

Washington, August 1.—(AP)—The department of agriculture foresees little likelihood of more than average production of major food and feed crops this year, partly on account of the unfavorable weather. Indications point to a corn crop probably somewhat below last year's, and below average, the department's experts reported in their August review of the agricultural situation. The same is true of hay and oats. The total wheat crop also apparently is below average, even potatoes, contrary to all the predictions of overproduction were increased only 2 percent in acreage this season, and must do very well to make an average total.

Indians Sue for Millions

WAR AGAINST GREEKS IN GEORGIA RECALLED Instead of Using Tomahawk

Washington, August 1.—Far away days when the red men roamed the vast wilds of America, hunting and fighting where they will, are recalled in nearly a score of suits various Indian tribes have brought against the government. In these 19 suits, filed in the court of claims here, the Indians ask over a billion and a quarter dollars, most of it in payment for lands for which they claim the government has not remunerated them sufficiently. Thirty-five different tribes, including the 12 tribes of the Sioux nation, with a membership of nearly 50,000, are among the plaintiffs. Their habitats range from Oklahoma to North Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington.

Some of the suits date back to the early days of the government, while a few are of recent date. One suit involves the controversy which arose when General Andrew Jackson, later president of the United States, defeated the Creek Indians of Georgia in 1813. Jackson negotiated a treaty, which the Indians claim was not honored. The suit asks for compensation for the lands taken from the Indians.

Another suit is that by the Delaware tribe, based upon the theft in 1801 by a government clerk of about $800,000 worth of state bonds belonging to the Delaware tribe. The government appropriated money to reimburse the tribe, but the Delaware claim that the amount they received was only $100,000 less than their bonds were worth. The tribe is now suing for the balance.

Their habitats range from Oklahoma to North Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington.

Some of the suits date back to the early days of the government, while a few are of recent date. One suit involves the controversy which arose when General Andrew Jackson, later president of the United States, defeated the Creek Indians of Georgia in 1813. Jackson negotiated a treaty, which the Indians claim was not honored. The suit asks for compensation for the lands taken from the Indians.

Another suit is that by the Delaware tribe, based upon the theft in 1801 by a government clerk of about $800,000 worth of state bonds belonging to the Delaware tribe. The government appropriated money to reimburse the tribe, but the Delaware claim that the amount they received was only $100,000 less than their bonds were worth. The tribe is now suing for the balance.

Extreme Low Prices on Furniture Due to Cash Policy at Local Furniture Store

Customers Express Amazement on Learning Low Prices Prevailing Throughout Home Furnishing Line.

The exceptionally low prices on high quality furnishings to be found at Stephen Philibosian, Inc., are being traced directly to the policy of the establishment in requiring cash for purchases, it is explained by Stephen Philibosian, head of the concern. The store has been in business for many years and has a reputation for high quality furnishings at low prices.

Patrons of the Philibosian store have learned that the best values obtainable in this section are to be found in the unique establishment, adjacent to the Georgian Terrace hotel. Experience has taught, they say, that cash payments obviate "long drawn out" settlement of accounts and the attendant unpleasantness. "All my customers pay cash," Mr. Philibosian says. "There are no exceptions. When articles are purchased at our store there is no bargaining or recurrent installments. The article is yours when you leave the store."

WHEREVER THERE ARE FLIES USE FLY-TOX

"Something baby ate" — Yes. But tainted by flies

FLIES crawled over the food. Waded in the milk. Their stenchy feet were filthy dirty. Baby took germs of burning fever in to her little body when she ate the food. She became restless. And then sick!

Flies cause forty thousand deaths in the United States each year. And far too many of them are children.

Use Fly-Tox. Protect little folks. Make your home clean, comfortable, sanitary.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR CANTON SUSPECT

Canton, Ohio, August 1.—(P)—Authorities seeking to solve the mystery of the murder of Don R. Mellett marked time here today while police and detectives throughout the country searched for Patrick Eugene "Red" McDermott, Cleveland barber.

Unnamed witnesses bided their time awaiting the call of Detective Ora Slater, head of the investigation, who pins his hope of a speedy solution on McDermott's apprehension. From McDermott, Slater expects to find who the other members of the "gunning crew" were and who fomented the conspiracy to shoot the publisher, because he was a menace to the Canton underworld, its vice and attendant political protection.

Slater still concealed the name and exact whereabouts of the "mysterious informer" who is held in a nearby jail for his protection. He is declared to fear for his life because he has "squealed."

The informer claims he and McDermott were offered "the job" of murdering Mellett and that insofar as he knows, McDermott went through with the plans which he himself dropped after some consideration.

Macon Woman Finds Brother in Church With Wound in Head

Macon, Ga., August 1.—(P)—Wiley B. Paul, 35, real estate dealer, of Miami, was found in Friendship Baptist church, near here, late this afternoon, seriously wounded with a bullet wound in the left side of his head. He was brought to a local hospital and attendants say that he admitted the wound was self-inflicted. His condition is serious, physicians say. Paul was found in the church by his sister, Mrs. T. B. Carr, of this city, who, with her husband, was passing the church and noticed her brother's car parked in front. On investigation, she found Paul seated in a chair with his head across a table. A pistol was found by his side. Mr. and Mrs. Carr were returning from a family reunion at the home of Mrs. Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Paul. The church is only a short distance from the residence. Paul had not been home since early Saturday, relatives said. No reason is assigned for his act.

Until several years ago Mr. Wolfson was connected with the American Hat Manufacturing company here. Coming to America from Germany at the age of 10, he spent most of his life in Georgia and was widely known.

He was a member of Gate City Masonic lodge. Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. B. Goettinger, of Atlanta; Mrs. Sam Cohen, of Albany; Miss Clara Wolfson and Mrs. C. E. W. Fowler. Mrs. Layfield was 70 years old and had made her home in Montezuma 18 years. She is survived by two sons, J. H. Massey, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and George Layfield, of Clearwater, Fla. St. Francis of Assisi Is Honored By Italy On 700th Anniversary

Assisi, Italy, August 1.—(P)—From king to the lowliest peasant, all Italy joined today in ceremonies marking the opening of the observance of the 700th anniversary of the death of St. Francis of Assisi.

King Victor Emmanuel was the central figure in the Tuscan celebration at the famous monastery of Verna, where St. Francis lived. He was accompanied by Cardinal Mitrangelo, archbishop of Florence, and Professor Fedele, fascist minister of public instruction.

The cardinal expressed gratification over what the Italian government had done to restore the Franciscan churches and monuments in Assisi to their original beauty and in building a road leading to the monastery in Verna, among other things. The celebration assumed its most imposing character here. Before the tomb of the great saint all bishops of Umbria gathered around Mr. Luddi, bishop of Assisi, while the faithful poured in from all parts of the world. Some came by train, others by automobile, but many, like the ancient pilgrims, journeyed on foot carrying offerings and holy images.

St. Francis of Assisi was essentially a preacher of the brotherhood of men and the ideal of service. He was born in 1182, the son of a merchant in Assisi, and his conversion came after a severe illness. Then he freed himself of his possessions, and, with a group of followers, devoted himself to serving his fellowmen. Later in life there came to him the vision of Christ, and he wrote his great hymn to the sun when blindness had overtaken him. After St. Francis' death, in 1226, one of his followers used his influence to bring about the building of the magnificent church and monastery of St. Francis of Assisi.

CAMP REESTABLISHED BY 121ST INFANTRY

Savannah, Ga., August 1.—(P)—Reestablished in their camp site at Venetian Terrace, the 121st infantry of the Georgia national guard, will resume its training program Monday.

Services were conducted today at the encampment in the morning at 10:30 by Chaplain J. G. Patton. There were no formal exercises at the encampment Sunday, not even guard mount and parade being held.

Lieutenant Oliver R. Bennett of Company K, of Dublin, assumed his duties as officer of the day at the informal guard mount held at the encampment Saturday afternoon. The movement back to the encampment from the barracks at Fort Screven was completed Saturday morning, camp having been removed to either side of the former site. The first battalion and the medical detachment are encamped at the southern extremity of the site while the remainder of the regiment is on the north drill field. The regular army instructors have been moved across the concrete road back of the Tribes white house for the remainder of the encampment.

The spirit of the men during the whole of the movement to and from Fort Screven and the driving rain and wind of Wednesday has been remarkable and the officers of the regiment have been complimenting their men for the excellent spirit they have shown.

MINER ENDS LIFE BY DYNAMITE ROUTE

Morgantown, W. Va., August 1.—(P)—A miner ended his life near here late last night by placing a stick of dynamite in his mouth and lighting the fuse. The man, Frank Sabiray, 33, leaves a wife and three children at Masontown, Pa.

INFANT MORTALITY IN FRANCE IS CUT BY AMERICAN AID

Paris, August 1.—(P)—Efforts to reduce infant mortality in France, in which efforts Americans have taken a prominent part, seem to be meeting with success, judging by statistics just issued by the minister of labor covering the first quarter of 1932.

These figures show that while the number of births increased as compared with the same period last year, there was an appreciable decrease in the number of babies who died, which, added to a diminution in the general death rate, gives an increase in the population of more than 9,000, as compared with a decrease of 4,500 the first quarter of 1931.

The actual increase in the number of births is 4,348 for the three-months' period, and the decrease in infant mortality is 2,938. The falling off in the number of deaths, all ages, is 18,015.

The number of divorces decreased from 4,367 the first quarter of 1931 to 4,204 in 1932. There was a falling off of 5,517 in the number of marriages.

TEXAS FIRE CAUSES $450,000 DAMAGES

Harlingen, Texas, August 1.—(P)—Fire departments from three other towns subdued a blaze in the Aransas Compress company plant here late last night after it had caused damages estimated at $450,000.

The compress and between 4,000 and 5,000 bales of cotton were burned after flames broke out in the plant's machinery department. Crews called from Brownsville, San Benito and Mercedes prevented the fire from spreading to nearby oil warehouses and cotton gins. Between 9,000 and 10,000 bales of cotton were about the compress, but a fire-wall isolating the south portion saved half of that amount.

INCREASE IS SHOWN IN MOTOR TRAVEL

The information bureau of The Constitution daily is handling a much greater number of requests for motor travel information than in any former year, especially to the mountains and the beaches of the southeast.

According to the records of this bureau, travel is by no means confined to Atlantans and Georgians. Daily numbers of motorists from Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and other states are pouring into Atlanta en route to the mountains of Georgia and the Carolinas.

The decrease in visitors from the central and middle-west section has been more than offset by the increase in travel from other sections, en route to the mountains, the national capital and the Great Lakes resort section.

The Constitution's information bureau gives routings and personally compiled motorlogs to all points east of the Mississippi river without charge to those who call at The Constitution building, or who send 10 cents postage with written requests.

Those writing for the service are requested to be specific, and if the destination is a small town to give county or nearby large city.

Volunteers To Rounce Crackers in Final Game, 8 to 1

Atlanta Clan Held To Only Six Hits By Nashville Star

Ray Francis Is Pounded as Vols Stage Hitting Attack on Niehoff—Griffith Only Cracker to Score.

Nashville, Tenn., August 1.—(Special.)—Benny Frey crumbled the Crackers into bits in the last Sunday and partly reversed the double defeat handed the Vols Saturday, the home club winning, 8 to 1, in one of the fastest games played in the local ball orchard this season. It required 1 hour and 28 minutes.

Frey and Francis engaged in a pretty round duel for four frames. Both teams scored on the run each but Francis was not at either pitcher. McLarry's lucky double played a big part in the Vols' counter, while Griffith's hit to left, which took a bad bounce, enabled the visitors to knot the count in the fourth.

The Crackers were practically helpless thereafter. Frey gave up a total of six hits for the afternoon and only in one stanza, the fourth, were they able to bunch more than one. But 32 batters faced Frey.

Two Bad Innings. Francis pitched good ball in all save the fourth and fifth innings, when the Volunteers registered seven hits. He was a victim of some shabby fielding, although not a single Cracker was chalked up with an error.

Francis was raked for 13 safeties, eight of which came in the fourth and fifth.

Frey not only pitched a winning brand of ball, but he fielded in sensational fashion. He threw all three batters out in the first and handled several other hard hit balls. Walter Kimmick, likewise, had a busy afternoon over at the hot corner. He had but four chances but they were of the difficult type. Once he knocked down a terrific hit ball and threw the runner out at first. He also raced into scoop up three bunts and nip his men at first.

"Uncle" Wilbur Good saved the Crackers at least a couple of runs in the sixth when he backed up against the right field sign board and stabbed wildly at Frey's drive. The ball caught in the webbing of Good's glove. It was a pretty catch and he was given a big hand.

McLarry's double to left in the second followed by two infield outs and Eddie Kenna's single, which Griffith was unable to handle, gave the Vols a run as a starter.

The Crackers knotted the count in the fourth when Tom Griffith singled with two down, stole second and scored when Griffith singled to left, the ball taking a bad hop and Bates juggling.

Partridge started the fireworks in the fifth with a single. Frey followed suit Redfern's one-base poke and the many prizes being offered.

Those entered will get underway this morning to get in shape for the qualifying rounds. The qualifying rounds will be announced following the meeting of the officials Wednesday night.

The teams representing each of the papers follow:

RICKARD'S AND KEARNS' GAME OF GOLF MYSTERY

TWO APPEAR TO BE HOOKING UP FOR BIG TIME

BY HARRY NEWMAN. (By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, August 1.—Tex Rickard and Jack Kearns were golfing this afternoon. We don't think either of these two guys knows a thing about that revised game of golf and so we wonder what it is all about.

We wonder, also, if we couldn't attach a little significance to the fact that the Tex promoter and Jack Dempsey's old boss have hooked up at a time when Tex is getting things ready for a championship fight between Dempsey and Gene Tunney at the Yankee stadium, September 16.

You know, there have been rumors that Dempsey and Kearns are about to settle their little jam and that Kearns is going to take over the old champ.

again. Well, doesn't it seem rather significant that Rickard, who is going to put on the rumpus, should find time to fuss with that Kearns guy?

Kearns is with Rickard at every step. When Rickard was in Chicago Kearns was right at his heels, which, to my mind, would indicate that Rickard will serve as the intermediary to bring the champ and his old sidekick together.

Mrs. Dempsey may spoil the whole works and refuse to let her little Jack play with that bad Kearns boy, but from where we are sitting, it looks as though everything is about set for a new deal and that Kearns will be at the helm when the champion opens his training campaign at Tom Luther's famous old spot on Saratoga lake.

Memphis, Tenn., August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Successfully repelling an invasion by their closest pursuers, the Memphis Chickasaws, during the past week, Larry Gilbert's fast stepping Pelicans, of New Orleans, gained a half game and are now five and a half game out in front in the Southern League standing. Memphis dropped two out of three in the Crescent City and must await the middle of August before getting another chance at the Pelicans, who will play a four-day series in Memphis starting August 16.

Losing today's game to Little Rock, the Pelicans came through with four wins and two defeats during the week—which has been just what they need consistently for week after week. Memphis, continuing in second place, won three and lost three.

Relative to the other teams, the Pelicans, in third place, and Nashville, in fourth place, added points to their percentages. Atlanta, who won three and lost four, including today's game, holds fifth position, with Mobile, Chattanooga and Little Rock coming up behind them in the order named.

Travelers Threatening. Little Rock, winning four, losing four and tying one, is threatening to climb from the cellar berth, losing but two and a half games behind Chattanooga. The Lookouts had a bad week, losing four games in as many starts, including today's.

The statistics for the week offer no hope to other contenders than New Orleans is "cracking" in any department. In five games, the Pelicans scored 38 runs, while opponents were held to 18. The 58 hits made by the Pelicans in the five starts represented a more concentrated attack than any other team in the league displayed during the week.

New Orleans continues to lead in team fielding, with .973. They are batting .200 as a team, while Nashville has a team batting average of .180.

During the coming week New Orleans plays at home, meeting Nashville and Chattanooga, while Memphis, Jacksonville, Mobile, Atlanta and Birmingham.

The week's play, including Saturday's games, follows:

Memphis, Tenn., August 1.—(P)—Suzanne Lenglen will not visit the United States this year. Although no official announcement has been made it is authoritatively stated that the French tennis star has declined the offer for a tour of the United States made to her by Charles Pyle, American sports promoter.

It is understood that Mr. Pyle failed to convince Suzanne that she could proceed to the United States and return home without standing.

The champion's health is still below normal, and she will soon go to Saint Moritz, Switzerland, to spend the summer. Her results in tennis practice, but she has not played since she was forced to withdraw from the Wimbledon tournament by an attack of neuritis.

Brooklyn, August 1.—Although Charlie Root had the home five hits here today, Brooklyn pounded out a 2 to 1 victory over the Cubs, three straight over the Chicago Cubs. The visitors gathered seven safeties off the delivery of Doug McWey.

Tickets for Fight To Go on Sale Today; Big Crowd Expected

Boston Scrapper Will Arrive in Atlanta to Start Training for Big Battle Here Friday—Champ Working Out Daily at Marietta.

The lure of excitement attendant to a champion trying out his punches on a much heavier and equally experienced fighter is expected to pack Spiller field Friday night, when Tiger ("Deacon") Flowers, world's middleweight titleholder, meets Battling McCreary, the sensational negro light-heavyweight of Boston.

Tickets for the scrap will be placed on sale this morning, according to announcement yesterday by Promoter Billy Lotz. The duets will be sold exclusively at "Chick's Place," located at Five Point.

If all of the pastebards printed are sold, and there is every reason to believe that they will be disposed of in $15,000 worth, the trail for the fight in that case all attendance records at Atlanta ring shows will be shattered.

Plans Are Rushed. Lightning-like speed has marked all of Promoter Lotz' arrangements for the fight. McCreary, who has been hot on the Tiger's trail for the past six months, has been under contract with Lotz for some time, but Walk Miller, manager of the champion, was brought to terms just last Friday. Arrangements having already been made for the use of the ball park, Promoter Lotz immediately let contracts for the necessary lighting of the grandstand and issued a rush order for the tickets, which were delivered late Saturday night.

Also a Good Card. Promoter Lotz has arranged a good card in support of the main event, and Hollis Sullivan has been matched with Tommy Jones in the semi-windup. Jones is also a member of Walk Miller's stable and has been showing sensational thrills recently. He is rated equally with Sullivan in boxing skill and hitting power and the semi-windup in itself should afford plenty of action.

But the main drawing card will be Tiger Flowers himself. The Tiger is more than a boxing champion. He is one of the most colorful and picturesque figures in the ring today. Flowers never lets one of his fights drag for a minute. He keeps after his opponent from the first bell to the last. Thus he has earned the enviable record of always giving the fans better than a run for their money.

Particular interest is attached to the fight in view of this being Flowers' first ring appearance since he won the middleweight title from Greb and also his last fight before he defends the championship against the ex-horner.

Although McCreary cannot possibly win Flowers' title, as the scrap is being staged at catch weights, he has every reason in the world to make good showing against the champion. If he should go the limit, his reputation would be helped, and if he should happen to score a knockdown or knockout he would be made overnight from a crowd-drawing standpoint.

McCreary, accompanied by Solly Snyder, his manager, will arrive here Tuesday morning from Boston. Arrangements have been made for the Boston fighter to train at the negro Y. M. C. A., on Auburn avenue, and arrange to have his first fight with the white and colored fans to watch him go through his training routine. Flowers is now training on Walk Miller's health farm near Marietta and he will continue to work there.

Makers of Window Screens Busy in All Communities

The number of new homes being built in and around Atlanta at the present time is far greater than the average Atlanta has any idea of, for while the building inspector's office shows some wonderful records, they are necessarily restricted to limited territory.

This big city is extremely favored by the beautiful and healthful country it surrounds it and it has no obnoxious or unhealthy spots, swamps or anything else that retards its growth in any direction. It is in these beautiful outside sections where much building is now going on and the ring of the carpenter's hammer is heard in many beautiful, shady groves.

Allen, Wells & Moore, the popular screen makers, of 392 Edgewood avenue, have screened over 300 new houses in the past four months and more than 200 of these houses were outside the city lines.

The interesting part of their work is the fact that they have been screening new houses on every side of Atlanta and this shows that the building of new homes is not confined to any one section or community but is general all around this fast growing city.

Work Is Scattered.

Another interesting feature of their work is that they are screening a total of 70 houses for four brothers, each one a separate contractor, and the work is going on for them in widely separated parts of Fulton and DeKalb counties.

Robert Thomson, the well-known builder, is having them screen 20 houses in the new Mayfair subdivision on Piedmont road, and about a half-dozen houses all over town. C. R. Eubanks has another nine or ten screened.

Mattress Renovating Plant Has Enjoyed Rapid Growth

There is a short street running off of South Pryor street at the intersection of Ridge avenue called Goodwin street. At No. 2 is the large mattress factory and renovating plant of the Empire Mattress company, one of the best equipped and well-known mattress renovating establishments in the south.

The proprietor of this business, W. H. Jones, began the renovating of mattresses in a downtown location in a modest way several years ago. The good work and square dealings he had with his many customers soon called for new and larger quarters and he moved to Ridge avenue where he doubled his floor space, but in a short while more room again became imperative and he erected his present large building.

The mattress business, like many other lines, has made great progress the past few years and Mr. Jones and his co-workers have kept up, if not a little ahead, and are making better mattresses out of many old ones houses in Druid Hills. Joe Walker has five in Morandale and Thomas James is having them screen 17 nice homes and a 21-unit apartment house on Summer street.

In Avondale Estates they are screening ten houses for the Flieger company, seven for Hoke N. Smith, and six for Wager & Co., and also are doing some nice work for the Morris Realty and Development company in Decatur, and some other scattered work in country homes in DeKalb county.

In the West End section 17 nice homes and an apartment house were screened in Olympian Hills and a large apartment for O'Brien Watson was screened on Lee street. Dr. Homer Redd also had some fine screen work done on Bankhead highway and some new country homes in that part of Fulton county also were screened.

Use of Screens Universal.

T. K. Windham, president of the Better Homes company, is giving this firm much screen work on the new homes that his company is interested in building.

The gratifying part of the screen business of today is that the American public took heed of the advice offered to them several years ago by the medical societies, city, county, state and national health authorities, each one a separate contractor, and were put on to a screen the people to the many dangers of the insidious malarial and the equally dangerous mosquito.

So the building of a new home, apartment, hospital, sanitarium or hotel in this day and time is not complete unless it is properly screened.

The Day in Finance BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, August 1.—Indications of business prosperity of the two largest corporations in the country and further optimism regarding the outlook of trade in General Motors looked up the stock market during the past week until a rise in call money to 5 per cent on Friday called a normal technical reaction.

General Motors corporation and United States Steel corporation reported the best earnings in their history, the former outstripping the latter by some $400,000 in the first six months of the year. Immediately after these reports were out, contrary to the usual procedure, the stocks of the two companies soared into unprecedented levels, giving the entire list a semblance of the great bull market which broke in March.

General Motors earned $88,285,674 for the first six months of the year as compared with $50,308,009 in a similar period of 1925. During this time Steel net profits were $92,875,390 or $410,284 less than the leading motor stock. Motors also reported Steel in point of leadership of the market, pushing into record territory by leaps and bounds and the latter closely following until Friday when it reversed the situation. Wednesday motors advanced more than 7 points and Thursday added 12 points to its gain, while Steel rose rapidly, but nevertheless steadily, by the regular dividends were declared by the corporation, although there had been some talk of a melon cutting. Wall street, however, was convinced that such a procedure would not develop at this time and was well satisfied with the excellent earnings report set forth by the directors.

Stockholders of General Motors can almost taste the melon they are so ardently hoping will be at the directors' meeting next month. Wall street experts took their pencils and turned out a most promising array of figures—figures which showed a distribution. These analysts calculated that General Motors could pay a 50 per cent stock dividend and still have enough to pay regular dividends on

Atlanta Pulpits Deplore Slaying Of Donaldson

Expressions of the brutal slaying of Bert Donaldson, special investigator for Solicitor General John Boykin, who was lured to his death in the Georgian Terrace hotel Thursday night by gunmen, were made Sunday from virtually every pulpit in Atlanta.

The Wesley Memorial Methodist church adopted resolutions "deeply deploring the murder and the congregation pledged aid to officers of the law in discharging their duties. The resolutions were unanimously passed by the congregation.

Rev. L. Willie Collins, in his sermon at St. Paul's Methodist church, declared the murder of Donaldson was "no detached incident, but a symptom of something that has shrouded the most lethargic of us wide-awake."

Beavers' Comment.

Chief of Police Beavers, on returning to his duties Sunday, declared that the slaying of Donaldson was "deplorable" and expressed a determination to do all in his power to aid in bringing the murderers to swift justice.

"The tragedies of the past week," said Rev. Collins, "have roused the right-thinking citizenship of America as few things have done in a hundred years. Within a few days of each other two martyrs, the fighting editor of Canton, Ohio, and Bert Donaldson, an Atlanta, have been the victims of a nation-wide campaign of terrorism and we are warned that this is not the end."

"What seems to be the culmination of the American gangster's attempt to intimidate both the private citizen and the officers of the law is a warning to be merely the beginning. If we need more police, in God's name let us have more police. If we must spend more money, then let us drain the treasury dry rather than submit to this infamous condition, where we put ourselves under the control of a few well-organized and desperate crooks."

"Something Wrong."

"Must we admit that the law is powerless? That let us all carry pistols to protect our own lives? There is something radically wrong when we own ourselves powerless under such conditions as these."

"Such a tragedy will rouse the nation as few things have done. God, pity us if it does not. And God pity the nation that has allowed this with this element of society, who fails to repeat at this hour when he sees the result of this tolerance of evil."

Bert Donaldson deserves the tribute of every loyal American citizen. He fell in the cause of righteousness, and without him we shall be back to the cave-man and the jungle tomorrow. Struggling against fearful odds, himself redeemed from the underworld, he went straight and undaunted and a zeal that makes him akin to the saints and martyrs.

HOLMES QUARTET APPEARS IN NEW YORK

New York, August 1.—(Special.)—The Holmes quartet of Atlanta presented its first program for the citizens of New York in Bethel church Sunday afternoon to more than 2,000 citizens, who applauded the singers from beginning to end. Rev. R. C. Holmes, president and founder of the institution, spoke on the educational condition of the colored people in the south.

Rev. Holmes said the colored people were not responsible for their being in this country and it was the providence of God that they are here where they will stay and work out their own destiny; "therefore it is the duty of the stronger race to help bring them up to the standard of useful and Christian citizenship which we have a blessing to the race and nation," continued Rev. Holmes.

Bishop R. C. Ransom, in delivering a sermon in Mother Zion A. M. E. church, said the Holmes institute was established in the heart of the south and was a blessing to the un-reached colored people and deserves the moral and financial support of the east.

The quartet will present its final program in New York Tuesday evening in Mother Zion A. M. E. church, following the closing remarks by President Holmes.

UPSHAW INSTALLED HONORARY MEMBER SPANISH WAR VETS

Congressman W. D. Upshaw of this district, was installed as honorary member of Pittsburgh Lee camp, United Spanish War Veterans, at impressive exercises Sunday afternoon at the auditorium.

This honor was conferred upon the congressman for his work in aiding veterans of the Spanish war in securing pensions and was approved by William A. Grayson, of Savannah, commander of the state department, and C. A. Thompson, of Cincinnati, national commander.

R. I. Henry, camp commander, presided, and he was assisted by Ralph Speckels, junior vice commander of the state department, and Dr. Sam W. Small, national chaplain. Quite a number of interesting addresses featured the program following the installation exercises.

DR. MOTT ELECTED
HEAD OF Y. M. C. A.
WORLD CONGRESS

Helsinki, Finland, August 1.—(Special.)—The world congress of the Young Men's Christian association opened today with 30 nations represented by 1,200 delegates, among them 250 Americans.

Dr. John R. Mott, of New York, was elected unanimously to the presidency of the congress, succeeding Dr. Paul DeGouttes, who resigned because of advanced age.

Dr. Mott declared he would assume responsibility for the general policy, but not for administrative work, and said he would carry out faithfully the principles laid down by the Paris meeting in 1885.

The opening ceremony was impressive, as for the first time, all the Christian churches, including the Roman Catholic, are represented in the congress.

BODY OF SOLDIER DROWNED AT TYBEE FOUND ON SUNDAY

Savannah, Ga., August 1.—(Special.)—The body of a young national guardsman, of Macon, who was drowned last Saturday afternoon, was found in the main channel of the river back of the encampment of the regiment at Tybee this afternoon about 4:30 by Edward Clivech, of Savannah. The body was sent to Macon Monday morning, accompanied by an escort of members of the company.

When the body was found in the river, it was a bailing unit worn by McCarty, who attempted to bring Collier to shore following the capsizing of their boat. McCarty, after dragging under twice by the drowning man, was forced to wriggle out of his suit.

Amusements
Loew's Grand.
Lively music, pretty songs and fast dancing will be featured in "Entertainment From A to Z," which will be offered by Allen Zee and company as the headline attraction at Loew's Grand. Another popular act on the new bill is "Darktown Frolics," presented by Coulter and Rose, Jack Usher and company will present a new musical comedy satire entitled "Married Life." Charles and Grace Moret will offer a new comedy singing number entitled "Humorous Interviews." Cooke, Morton and Harvey will present an oddity entitled "A Ball Game in the Dark." The Loew feature picture is "Sandy."

Rialto Theater.
And now it is Rod La Rocque, a mounted English peer. After playing an uncouth Australian rascal owning in "The Coming of Amos," donning a feathered war bonnet as an Indian in "Braveheart," portraying a red-blooded American youth in "Red Dice," Rod is the immaculately groomed English lord in "Bachelor Brides," his new starring picture, opening at the Rialto this morning.

Enhancing the entertainment value of "Bachelor Brides" is a Jimmie Adams comedy called "For Sadie's Sake."

Metropolitan.
Nine of the most remarkable child actors in pictures are seen in Mary Pickford's "Sparrows," The United Artists' Corporation picture which is playing at the Metropolitan theater

HOWARD THEATER

Sixty new faces. Just as many famous ones. Such is the unusual cast of "Fascinating Youth," a Paramount picture to be shown at the greater Howard theater all this week.

The Paramount Junior Stars are the new faces. Students for six months in the Paramount picture school, they were chosen from 40,000 applicants for training for movie careers.

Guaranteeing an all-star cast—Adolphe Menjou, Richard Dix, Lila Lee, Thomas Meighan, Clara Bow, Percy Marmont, Loin Wilson, Chester Conklin, Ralph Lewis and other famous actors and actresses. In addition several well-known motion picture directors have parts.

The stars, who volunteered to assist the Juniors, appear in the picture in the part of Byron Morgan's story laid inside a big motion picture studio, directed by Sam Wood at the Paramount Long Island studio. It shows just how movies are made and what appears to be the inside of a studio.

Other scenes are laid in Greenwich Village, the Bohemian center of New York city, and at a winter resort where skating, skiing, tobogganing and other winter sports are in full swing. An ice boat race as the climax of the story of the attempt of a young man and a group of his friends to make an unsuccessful winter resort hotel pay dividends, affords a unique thrill.

The Paramount Junior Stars, with Atlanta's own Marion Ivy Harris, themselves will appear in a John Murray Anderson Public stage presentation, "Alice in Movieland," the first of the series of the program for the week. A third unique feature will be that screen tests will be given to local actors, promising as prospects for the second term of the Paramount picture school.

Lakewood Park

"The Ten Commandments," the story, the picture broke every commandment before they paid the penalty, with its gorgeous story in colors of the adventures described in Exodus, opens a three-day engagement at Lakewood park airside theater at 7 o'clock tonight. It will be presented in the original form as produced by Cecil B. DeMille. The regular, nightly dance will begin at 8 o'clock in the Casino. The midway is open from 1 to 11 o'clock.

West End Theater

Laughter, not slaughter, is the ruling theme of "Behind the Front," Paramount's contribution to the story of the great war. "Behind the Front" is being shown at the West End theater today and tomorrow.

It is a comedy of the adventures of dumb doughboys, played by that intangible character, ten. Wallace Berry and Raymond Hatton. Through the whole story runs a fine thread of romance, with beautiful Mary Brian playing the role of the Red Cross worker in France.

Russian Awaits Death To Unite Mates' Souls

MIAMI, Fla., August 1.—Beginning a hunger strike as a means of carrying out a suicide pact with his wife, who leaped from an eighteenth-story window of a hotel here Friday night, Baron Michael Royce-Garrett, penniless Russian nobleman, has refused food since he was placed in the county jail last night after he had been found waiting under a tree for darkness to give him courage to hang himself.

"I'll be dead in two weeks and then I will join my loved one," he declared. The baron refused to talk to anyone today, or even to meet friends who called at the jail to see him. Members of the Theosophical Society of Coral Gables called to ask permission of him to take charge of burial arrangements for his wife. It was not until he had been asked the question twice that he responded: "Perhaps."

A coroner's inquest into the death of the baroness is set for Monday afternoon.

In the last stages of despondency and disappointed that his wife had not waited for their rendezvous with death, the baron, who lost a leg in the world war and fled the Russian revolution to come to America with his wife, wandered for hours Saturday carrying a rope, losing nerve each time he would start to carry out his plan to hang himself.

Thinking darkness would give him courage, he was waiting under a tree in the Little River section north of Miami when he was found by police, who had spent virtually a whole day searching for his body after the suicide pact had been revealed.

A believer in reincarnation, the baron hopes to starve himself to death in order to "join my loved one."

Thomas Smith
Accuses Self
Of 6 Murders

Man Signs Statement Telling Police He Escaped From Insane Asylum.

Seattle, Wash., August 1.—(AP)—A purported confession that he has committed murders in Minneapolis, Peoria, Ill., Ethelton, S. D., Mankato, Minn., Sioux City, Iowa, and Kansas City, was made to police here last night by a 45-year-old man who gave his name as Tom Smith and who said he is known in the west as Tom Kelly. The statement was made voluntarily and told of the alleged killing of six men and of at least 100 hold-ups.

Seattle officials immediately started an investigation and Minneapolis police, advised of the confession, replied that they were sending two detectives in an attempt to identify Smith and connect him with the murder of Leonard Erdahl in that city last December. The Erdahl murder was one of those included in Smith's confession. He said the man he killed in Peoria was an insurance agent and that he had killed "a policeman and his partner" in Mankato, Minn.

Smith's story of activities began seven years ago, when he said he was sentenced to serve fifteen years in the Missouri penitentiary for Kansas City. After nine months he was transferred to an asylum for "insane" inmates in that state and escaped July 3, four years ago. He outlined a list of robberies committed in Aberdeen, S. D., Minneapolis, Omaha, Sioux City, Minn., and Fargo, N. D., Kansas City, Peoria, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Mankato, Minn.

NEW NOTE FOUND CALLING FOR HELP FOR 'WALTER WARD'

New York, August 1.—(AP)—A note signed "Walter Ward" saying that the son of the wealthy baking man was being held prisoner on an island off Suffolk county, Long Island, was found in a bottle washed ashore at Riverhead, L. I., tonight. Police were notified and immediately began an investigation. The note said: "Held on Robinson Island for God's sake send help."

Ward, who was acquitted of the murder of Clarence Peters in an alleged blackmail plot in 1922, disappeared last May. His abandoned automobile was found near Trenton, New Jersey.

On June 9 last, a carrier pigeon with a message attached to its leg reporting to be from Ward, was picked up at Bryan Athyn, Pa. The message said Ward was held prisoner at a shack on the Delaware river. Search of the Delaware river, however, any trace of the missing man.
